The developer provides a free trial version of HRC Classic for 14 days. You can download it from the official website . The calculator imports hand history from: PokerStars, PokerOK, partypoker, iPoker Network, Winning Poker Network, 888Poker and Winamax.

HoldemResources Calculator is an advanced preflop solver for No Limit Texas Holdem. It is equally good for analyzing the game in tournaments with a short stack, as well as for analyzing hands in deep stacks in cash.

The developer offers two variants of the calculator: Used outside of poker tables; Does the program have a free trial version? Yes, the developer provides a free version of HRC Classic for 14 days. Download HoldemResources Calculator;

Does HoldemResources Calculator work on macOS? HRC supports not only the Windows operating system, but also macOS. Moreover, there is a Linux version of the software.

What are the differences between Classic and Pro versions? Classic is designed for the final stages of tournaments, where players often find themselves in a push/fold situation. The calculator gives reliable results for stacks up to 30 big blinds. However, HRC Classic has limited postflop abstractions. There are no scripting tools like in the Pro version.

HRC Pro builds decision trees of any size, has extended post-flop abstractions and scripting functions. The latter distinguish HoldemResources Calculator from other software for analyzing situations with deep stacks. HRC Pro is suitable for both tournament players and cash game regulars. Many professionals appreciate the calculator for its versatility.
